The All New S/812

SHATTERING PERFORMANCE BARRIERS

For S/812, every aspect of the previous generation's inner workings were examined without regard to its critical and customer-driven success. We turned a fresh eye to power requirements, driver improvements, and specialty filters, upgrading each to extract all the extra performance possible. All this alongside the cabinet refinements necessary for those upgrades to emerge cleanly. This latest S range is a triumphant development that has exceeded every expectation of our design team.

Our requirements were for far stronger deep bass output between 19-35 Hz, vastly improved theatre dynamics, and an even more open and spacious soundfield which benefits both music and film. We turned to our NextGen 5 amplifier, tuned to 800 watts, with huge reserves of power beyond this, added a light film of carbon fibre to the rear of the driver to handle the extra power, and developed two new sets of custom filters to extract the utmost in brute force and spaciousness. Finally, we imbued 812 with the ability to be stacked in 4- or 6-unit line arrays, just like our reference models.

I love my REL's!!

I purchased two REL S812's from my REL and Wilson Audio dealer when I purchased a pair of Alexia speakers. I already had a pair of high end subs; however, my dealer stated to me that I needed faster more responsive subs to get the best sound out of my system. He was right! I have my REL S812's set up right next to my Alexia's in a stereo format. I...Read More (<https://yotpo.com/go/1yB1U4LJ>)

Excellent Subwoofer

I admit I really enjoy my music much better at lower sound levels now. I do not have to turn my MC611 pass 25 to enjoy any music. As mentioned they do extend the sound stage. I play my system nearly everyday and enjoy the sound so much better. I just purchased my first pair in November and my second pair is already on order. The best feeling is pu...Read More (<https://yotpo.com/go/1yB1U4LJ>)

They care

John Hunter, CEO, gave me a phone call after I purchased my 812 S Sub telling me how to tune it in properly. Very helpful. They respond to inquiries promptly. Good company to deal with. (<https://yotpo.com/go/1yB1U4LJ>)
